

Peninsula Open Space Trust

2011 BOARD OF DIRECTORS

MARK A. WAN, Board Chair

Founding general partner, Three Arch Partners; former general partner, Brentwood Associates; founder of numerous healthcare companies, including General Surgical Innovations, Odyssey Healthcare and Perclose Medical; resident of Woodside.

STEVE BLANK – Lecturer in entrepreneurship at U.C. Berkeley's Haas Business School, Columbia University Graduate School of Business and Stanford's Graduate School of Engineering; member, California Coastal Commission; member, board of directors, National Audubon Society; chair, Audubon California board; co-founder, E.piphany, MIPS Computers, Ardent, Rocket System Games; member, board of directors, Macrovision Corporation, CaféPress, IMVU; resident of Menlo Park.

JOHN E. CHAMBERLAIN – Former manager of the New York City branch office of Inforex, Inc.; former member, board of directors, Cotelligent, Inc.; president, Chamberlain Associates, Inc. (later acquired by Cotelligent); founder of National Association of Computer Consultant Businesses (NACCB), former president of its northern California chapter, also director of NACCB's National Legal Defense Fund and member of the NACCB executive committee; POST stewardship team leader since 2001; POST Volunteer of the Year, 2002; resident of Half Moon Bay.

DONNA DUBINSKY – CEO and board chair, Numenta; member, board of directors, Palm; member, board of directors, Computer History Museum, Mountain View; trustee, Yale Corporation; resident of Portola Valley and Pescadero.

JAN F. GARROD – General manager, Garrod Farms & Cooper-Garrod Estate Vineyards in Saratoga and Bird Flat Ranch in Lassen County; founder and water master, Mount Eden Mutual Water Co.; president, Santa Clara County Farm Bureau; member, Santa Clara Valley Water District Agricultural Advisory Board; treasurer, chair of grants committee, past president, American Vaulting Association; former board of directors, member, para-equestrian committee, three-time chef d'equipe to World Equestrian Games in Europe; United States Equestrian Federation; president, CVI Saratoga, equestrian event supporting those with special needs; member, Santa Clara Valley Winegrowers Association, Santa Cruz Mountains Winegrowers Association; resident of Saratoga.

DIANE B. GREENE – Co-founder and former chief executive officer VMware Inc. and VXtreme. Board of directors, Intuit Inc., Unity3d and MIT Corporation. Board of advisors for Stanford School of Engineering; resident of Stanford.

LARRY JACOBS – President and CEO, Jacobs Farm/Del Cabo, Inc., organic farm and small-scale growers association; chair, San Mateo County Agriculture Advisory Committee; former co-director, Estacion Experimental Choqui, non-governmental organization, Guatemala; resident of Pescadero.

PAUL NEWHAGEN – Co-founder and former chief financial officer, Altera Corporation; member, board of directors, Altera Corporation; member, board of directors GeoHazards International; resident of Los Altos.

BRAD O'BRIEN – Senior partner, real estate and environmental practice, Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati; teaches commercial leasing and recent developments in real estate, California Continuing Education of the Bar; director, Eastside College Preparatory School, East Palo Alto; pro bono legal work for tax exempt organizations including Ronald McDonald House, Sempervirens Fund, Environmental Volunteers, Menlo School, Woodside High School Foundation, Palo Alto History Museum and the Community School of Music and Art; resident of Menlo Park.

F. WARD PAINE – General Partner, OSCCO Ventures, venture capital firm; secretary, founding member and first president, Peninsula Open Space Trust; founder and former president, Peninsula Conservation Foundation; member, Advisory Board, Environmental Volunteers; former member, board of directors and vice-chairman, Senior Coordinating Council of Palo Alto; director of several private companies; resident of Portola Valley.

SANDRA THOMPSON – Self-employed attorney representing clients pro bono in tax litigation; former attorney, Fenwick & West, concentrating on international corporate tax law; former vice president of network solutions, IBM Corporation; regional board member, Teach for America; commissioner, Town of Woodside Planning Commission; resident of Woodside.